Adirondack View Finders: Farb, Bowie, Battaglia, Heilman

An exhibition of monumental proportions and impact, "Adirondack View Finders: Farb, Bowie, Battaglia, Heilman" is comprised of work from the most influential Adirondack photographers Nathan Farb, Mark Bowie, Nancie Battaglia, and Carl Heilman. View will celebrate the opening with a reception on Friday, December 2 at View from 5-7pm. The exhibition will run from December 3 – March 3, and will also include work by newer voices in Adirondack photography including Johnathan A. Esper, Lesley Dixon, and Clark Lubbs.

Stone sculptor Matt Horner will have work concurrently displayed, and "Teachers Turn: Instructors from the Adirondack Photography Institute" will open at the same time. The photography is a vast assortment of different perspectives of the Adirondacks. Large format prints where viewers can practically smell the pines, celebrate with hikers proud to have reached summits, see wildlife taking flight, appreciate disorienting reflections in calm lakes, and feel the warmth from fires roaring under time-lapsed stars streaking across the sky.

Mark Bowie will give a presentation about night-time photography, "Night Over the North Country" on the first morning of the exhibition Saturday, December 3, at 11am. Viewers will experience the trademark awe and wonder of Bowie's photography. His presentation will give a view of the metaphors that he creates with the passage of time and the seasons, as well as a look at the unimaginable beauty that he is able to capture in an Adirondack night.

Admission to Bowie's presentation is $10/$5 members and includes exhibition admission.

Exhibition admission is $10/$5 members and groups of 6+/Children under 12 free. View is a multi-arts center located at 3273 State Rt. 28 in Old Forge, NY. To learn more about View programming, including an upcoming workshop with Carl Heilman, visit www.ViewArts.org or call 315-369-6411.
